Description of Placement and Population Served:
The Rape Assistance and Awareness Program is Colorado's largest rape crisis center. RAAP sees on average 350 therapy clients per year and answers 3000 hotline calls. As the only rape crisis center in metro-Denver since 1983, RAAP's services are aimed at assisting survivors of sexual assault and educating the public about preventing sexual violence. Therefore, this internship position is designed to integrate both RAAP's mission and the student's career goals and interests as they pertain to working primarily with survivors of sexual assault.

Clients served at RAAP include adult and adolescent (13-18YO) survivors of sexual assault and abuse and friends, families and partners of survivors of sexual assault and abuse. Our Prevention Services Program includes school age children, teens and young adults, their parents and educators and other individuals in the community.

Supervisor's experience in training students to work with culturally diverse groups: Which group(s)?: As an organization, RAAP is committed to on-going training and community collaboration towards the goal of cultural proficiency. The training philosophy does not focus specifically on individual groups although staff and community agencies with whom we work, are extremely diverse. RAAP's minority client populations are largely Hispanic, African American and Gay/Lesbian/Bisexual. We offer most services in Spanish and English. Additionally, we strive to have a culturally diverse staff.

Duties of psychology trainee: rape crisis line; 1:1 crisis intervention, individual therapy; intake and assessment; co-facilitation of sexual assault/abuse groups, co-facilitation of workshop for secondary survivors.
